

When you read, think about...

Questions

- 1) What words or sentences were hard to understand?
- 2) What questions do you have about them?

Connections

- 3) How does this reading connect with what you have been learning in class?
- 4) How does this reading connect with things that we see in the world around us?
- 5) How does this reading connect with other things that you have read or heard?

Questions

- 6) What new questions do you have after reading this?

When you read, think about...

Questions

- 1) What words or sentences were hard to understand?
- 2) What questions do you have about them?

Connections

- 3) How does this reading connect with what you have been learning in class?
- 4) How does this reading connect with things that we see in the world around us?
- 5) How does this reading connect with other things that you have read or heard?

Questions

- 6) What new questions do you have after reading this?

When you read, think about...

Questions

- 1) What words or sentences were hard to understand?
- 2) What questions do you have about them?

Connections

- 3) How does this reading connect with what you have been learning in class?
- 4) How does this reading connect with things that we see in the world around us?
- 5) How does this reading connect with other things that you have read or heard?

Questions

- 6) What new questions do you have after reading this?

When you read, think about...

Questions

- 1) What words or sentences were hard to understand?
- 2) What questions do you have about them?

Connections

- 3) How does this reading connect with what you have been learning in class?
- 4) How does this reading connect with things that we see in the world around us?
- 5) How does this reading connect with other things that you have read or heard?

Questions

- 6) What new questions do you have after reading this?

When you read, think about...

Questions

- 1) What words or sentences were hard to understand?
- 2) What questions do you have about them?

Connections

- 3) How does this reading connect with what you have been learning in class?
- 4) How does this reading connect with things that we see in the world around us?
- 5) How does this reading connect with other things that you have read or heard?

Questions

- 6) What new questions do you have after reading this?